DELICATE UPHOLSTERY CLEANING

Recently, Kelly Cleaning's Ultimate Rug Spa, the new rug, carpet, and upholstery cleaning department, was tasked with a very interesting challenge of cleaning a handmade piece of art. This artwork is a hand stitched flower bouquet that is stretched over a frame.

The owner of this artwork created this piece many years ago and had put it away in storage for many years. During this storage period, the artwork had a few accidents happen to it. It had been covered in rodent feces, a big stain from a mysterious liquid appeared on the top portion of the frame, there were a few tears along the edge of the frame, and dust had accumulated in and on the fibers of the stitching which made the whole piece look a little dull...

Luckily for our client, our trained technicians were able to bring this piece back almost to its full glory. The colors looked vibrant, the whites looked clean, the stain had almost vanished, and this was all done with care of the fragility of this art piece. There was no additional damage done to the framing, backing, or the material itself.

This isn't the first time that Kelly Cleaning has handled this scenario. This actually happens more frequently than most people would think. Kelly Cleaning is usually able to find solutions for our clients that most other cleaning companies would not take on. So if you have a strange or if you are in a different cleaning situation, give us a call at (805) 644-5308 to see if we can help you!
